

Number Strips

The image displays four vertical rectangular strips, each divided into ten horizontal sections by thin lines. These strips are intended for students to write numbers, likely for a counting or number recognition activity.