

Physical Change or Chemical Change

Everything that is made is either a physical change or a chemical change. Now that you have read about each of the products and written about how they were made by early colonists, make an educated guess whether you think the product is a physical change or chemical change and tell why you think this. (Some of them may involve both a physical change and chemical change in the process.)

1. Making Soap _____

2. Making Bricks _____

3. Making Candles _____

4. Making Butter _____

5. Making Bread _____

6. Making Yarn _____
