

Personal Property Inventory

Provided by the Insurance Education Institute

Name: _____

In order for an insurance company to pay a claim for loss under a homeowner's policy, one way the insured can show proof of ownership is by preparing and maintaining a current inventory of household contents.

What do you think it would cost to replace the contents (personal belongings) of your bedroom? $ _____

Fill out the form below to get an accurate estimate of the value of your personal belongings and to determine the amount of risk you as an individual, and your family, face in the event of a fire or other loss.
