

Investing Is Like

Have you ever heard the word simile? A simile is often used in English and is defined as using “like” or “as” to compare one item to another.

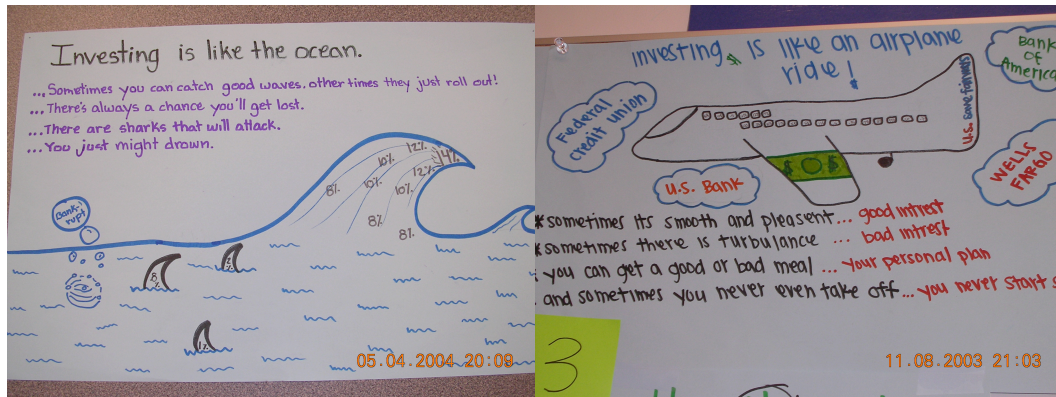

In this project you will be creating a simile using “Investing is like...”

You can use colored paper or construction paper. At the top of the paper title it “Investing is like...” and then begin to think of a comparison. You will then need three supporting facts on why investing is like that item. You will also need it to be illustrated using corresponding pictures. Refer to the required criteria below.

Examples:

Investing is like a garden...

Investing is like toilet paper...
