

Name _____

Period

Can This Marriage Be Saved?

You are the Marriage Counselor.

With your Partner, read the details of one of the Marital Problems. Read the first side of the story. Write your opinion and advice, based on the first person's side of the story. Then listen to the other partner's side of the story, write your advice, based upon the other partner's point of view. Finally, read the counselor's advice. Compare your advice to the advice of the counselor.

1. Name of Article. _____
2. What is the problem? _____
3. What does partner #1 complain about?
_____
_____
4. Stop reading now. Discuss with your partner what you think should be done. Write a paragraph of advice here.
5. Read second part of article. What does the other partner say that sheds further light on the problem?
_____
_____
6. Stop reading now. Discuss with your partner what you think the couple should do now after reading both sides of the problem. Is it the same or different than what you thought after listening to only one side of the story? Write a paragraph of advice here.
7. Read the counselors advice. Compare it to your advice. Do you agree or disagree with the counselor's advice? Do you think the Marriage could be saved if the couple followed this advice? Why or Why not? Describe your opinion in writing on the back.