

CLASS VALUES AUCTION

Hold a class Values Auction. This auction is especially fun if students use play money. As the teacher, you are the auctioneer. The goal is to try and buy as many values as you can. Pick and choose the items that work best for your class or do them all. Write the value on the board and open it up for bidding. After the items sell, write out to the side how much it sold for and the person that bought it.

Rules:

- Each student has 5000.00 to spend. (if you don't use play money, have the students track their own spending)
- Students must bid in increments of 100.00
- Once a student is out of money, they can no longer bid.
- If no one out bids another person after 3 seconds the item is sold.

Values For Class Auction

|                                  |  |
|----------------------------------|--|
| To be a famous rock star         | To own whatever car I would like         |
| To never be sick                 | To marry a good looking person           |
| To be extremely smart            | To have a successful business            |
| To be a famous sports star       | To live in a huge mansion                |
| To be beautiful                  | To be like by everyone                   |
| To be President of the U.S.      | To help the homeless                     |
| To have a great looking body     | To marry someone totally hot             |
| To be famous                     | To have my own children                  |
| To be a school teacher           | To have a good sex life when I'm married |
| To graduate from college         | To have a lot of friends                 |
| To help underprivileged children | To be happy in life                      |
| To be a doctor                   | To be a millionaire                      |
| To be a successful politician    | To help others                           |
| To raise happy children          | To travel around the world               |
| To be a successful artist        | To have a good relationship with parents |
| To live a long life              | To be a mother or father                 |

