

mountain

plateau

river

valley

ocean

Island

A high and often rocky area with steep or sloping sides.

An area of high ground with a fairly flat, level surface.

A long body of water that flows through the land.

A low area of land, often with a river or stream running through it, that is surrounded by higher ground.

A large body of salt water.

An area of land that is completely surrounded by water.