EXPRESS YOURSELF

INSTRUCTIONS: After reading the following case studies, draw lines that express your feelings or reactions to the situations.

1. You are watching a parade. As the military group approaches you, their commanding officer orders, "Halt!" The drums stop and the group stands silently at attention.
2. It is a warm summer day with no hint of a breeze. You have been driving for a long time on a very straight highway and you are drowsy. You see a shade tree with a cool looking spot of grass. You stop your car. You are very tired, so you lay down on the grass and fall asleep.
3. It is Halloween night and you are 10 years old. You have become separated from your friends and you meet a gorilla-like man who jumps from behind a bush and scares you.
4. It is a lovely spring night and you are with your boyfriend (girlfriend) in a sailing boat. The gentle breeze is blowing the boat calmly across the water.
5. You are at a fashion show. A very beautiful woman dressed in a pink chiffon gown, trimmed with soft lace, seems to almost float across the ramp. Her soft hair falls gently around her shoulders and her dainty slippers seem to hardly touch the floor.
