

UEN-TV Highlights - January 2017

Leaders

She Talks Utah: What, How and Why We Lead and Why You Should Too

Tuesday, January 3 at 8:30 p.m.

Five Utah women from various backgrounds and sectors speak about what, how, and why they lead, followed by their thoughts on why more girls and women should prepare to influence and lead. Learn from women who lead in a variety of settings, including political, religious, media, education, business, community, and home.

Building the Dream

Saturday, January 14 at 8 p.m.

The film tells how the Martin Luther King, Jr., national monument was created.

1964: The Fight for a Right

Saturday, January 14 at 9 p.m.

The struggles of African-Americans fighting for the right to vote in Mississippi in the 1960s is examined.

Jay: A Rockefeller's Journey

Saturday, January 28 at 9 p.m.

Why would the heir of one of the wealthiest families in America come to one of its poorest states- and stay? What influenced John D. Rockefeller IV to lead and live in West Virginia?

Asia

Home of the Terracotta Warriors

Saturday, January 7 at 8 p.m.

Two American archaeologists, Michelle and Alex, travel to the ancient city Xi'an, home of the Terracotta Warriors.

Arts in Exile: Tibetan Treasures in Small-Town America

Sunday, January 8 at 8 p.m.

Follow students, teachers and staff at an Austin high school under threat of closure by the state of Texas.

Asian-American Life

Tuesdays at 6 p.m. beginning January 10

The news magazine addresses topical news, in-depth feature reports and untold stories of the Asian-American diaspora experience to an all-inclusive audience.

India Awakes

Thursday, January 26 at 9 p.m.

Follow three individuals who are working hard to improve not only their lives, but also the lives around them, illustrating how India is on a path to evolve as a preeminent world leader.

Science

Storm of the Century: The Blizzard of '49

Wednesday, January 4 at 9 p.m.

A series of devastating storms hammered the Great Plains, Nebraska, Colorado, South Dakota and Wyoming lasting from January to April, 1949.

The Ethanol Effect

Thursday, January 12 at 9 p.m.

From Iowa's farm fields to Washington's corridors of power and the algae-choked surface of the Great Lakes to the poisoned depths of the Gulf of Mexico, the program investigates the human, environmental and political costs of growing and refining corn for ethanol in America.

Secrets of the Longleaf Pine

Saturday, January 21 at 9 p.m.

Explore the Longleaf Pine Forest which once covered the coastal plain of southeastern America.

Predict My Future: The Science of Us

Mondays at 9 p.m. beginning January 23

1,037 New Zealanders are the most scientifically studied people in the world. The Dunedin Study has followed the group since their 1972 and 1973 births. About one-third still reside in Dunedin, and 96% of the original group still take part.