A hand-drawn comic strip panel showing two children, a girl in a blue shirt and green shorts, and a boy in an orange shirt and white shorts, standing in a room. The girl is holding a small object. There are speech bubbles from both characters. The background is a simple sketch of a room with a doorway.

It says they died in our
BATHTUB
in 1982!

Let's
check.

Ew, that's what the stain is?!

Hello, my name is Basma Aldoori. I am 13 years old, and I made this book for children who love graphic novel books and a good mystery. I got this idea because of a show I watched a year ago lol, but that's not it, I also got the idea from a murder mystery class in the summer, I really hope you enjoyed my book.
